CLEARANCE LEVEL

MISSION START DATE

Trainee: solo, home station. Three days/week — A/B volume (leave 1-2 reps in reserve), Day C max consecutive clearance check. Log only DATE · PLANNED · ACTUAL. Ink over glow.

☒ MEDICAL CLEARANCE REQUIRED

Always consult a physician or qualified health professional before starting this or any exercise program. This protocol is general fitness material, not medical advice. Stop if you feel pain, dizziness, or unusual discomfort, and seek care as needed.

WEEK 00 // BASELINE ASSESSMENT

Warm up, then perform as many strict consecutive push-ups as you can with clean form. Record below. Baseline is a grid reference — not a verdict.

DAY 0

DATE	BASELINE MAX (CONSECUTIVE)

RECRUIT NOTE

If baseline is under 15: use knee or hands-elevated push-ups for Weeks 1-2. Keep planned numbers. Switch to full push-ups when Day C hits the printed target. Form beats ego — Vault-Tec does not cover shoulder reconstruction.

STANDING ORDERS

1. Train 3 days/week; leave 1 rest day between sessions when you can.
2. Days A & B: set scheme — stop 1-2 reps before failure.
3. Day C: one max consecutive attempt (Planned = weekly clearance target).
4. Write Actual honestly. A miss is data. A blank is fog.
5. Warm up shoulders. Full range: chest near floor, lockout at top.
6. Clear any new program with a doctor first — see cover disclaimer.

CLEARANCE GRANTED?

If Week 8 Day C Actual 100 consecutive with honest form, you are cleared.
If not: repeat Week 7-8 volume, then re-attempt. Persistence is a vault virtue.
